City eWaste Recycling

Effective 1st Oct 2026

Cheatham County Solid Waste has partnered with City eWaste to make proper electronic waste disposal more convenient than ever. By establishing two drop-off stations at convenience centers at Ashland City and Sam's Creek Centers, City eWaste offers residents a free and easy way to dispose of unwanted electronics.

About City eWaste -

What started as a backyard hobby quickly turned into the first computer & electronics recycling company based in Williamson County (previously named Franklin eWaste). With the love and support from their hometown, they gained tremendous traction, hired local help, and grew into the country's first mid-market eWaste franchise specializing in municipal and corporate recycling.
